

Leading through Introspection: Focusing on Insight

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The purpose of this course is to provide private and public sector professional staff with a greater understanding of how advanced personal skills play an important role in how to identify, analyze, and execute daily interactions through introspective reflection. Some of the philosophies and concepts outlined in this course will delve into Self-Analysis, Leadership Traits, Emotional Intelligence, Organizational Awareness, Implicit Bias, and how each serve as an important basis to develop trust and respect amongst peers, subordinates, superiors, and the public.

Date:

TBD

Location:

TBD

1-day course (8 hours)

STC# 05309136

For course registration, or registration questions please visit us at:

www.RichealGroup.com

You may also contact us at 916.990.5848 or RichealGroup@gmail.com

Prior participant feedback:

"Chief Richeal was real, honest, and everything she said made sense."

"I felt challenged to think about what I needed to do to make myself a more impactful leader."

"The content was very validating and hit home."

"I enjoyed Chief Richeal's presentation immensely. I believe she provided valuable instruction on how to demonstrate strong leadership skills and how to interpret the various personalities that will come in to play when doing so."

Cancellation Policy: Agencies are required to notify the Richeal Group of cancelled enrollments a minimum of 15 calendar days before the first day of instruction. If a trainee does not attend the course without giving the required 15 day notice the provider may charge the agency the cost of the tuition for the absent trainee(s).